Let's Start!

Sally and Natalie have similar backpacks. Let's see what happens!

Learning Outcome

Exchange personal information about the home and family in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can start a telephone call.
- I can ask for and tell the time.
- I can express time using in, on, at.

Ask your partner:

- Do you lose things often?
- What kind of things do you lose?
- How do you find things you lose?

Let's Explore!

Sally and Natalie's backpacks are switched. What do they do? Let's find out!

* To get "switched" means to get exchanged by accident.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Hello, is this Natalie?
Natalie: Yes? This is her. Who's this?
Sally: This is Sally. I have your wallet and backpack.
Natalie: You're kidding me! I have your backpack.
Sally: Thank goodness! There was a switch ... at the bus stop or on the 4:15 bus.
Natalie: It's funny our backpacks are so similar.
Sally: When do you want to meet?
Natalie: On Wednesday? At Star's Cafe, at two o'clock?
Sally: Hmm ... What time is it now?
Natalie: It's ten o'clock.
Sally: I have a class in an hour. I need my backpack and books. Can we meet today?
Natalie: Sure! How about noon?
Sally: Noon is perfect!
Natalie: See you then. Call me when you get there.

Let's Practice!

In, On, At. Which one is it?

Instructions: Write the words in the correct category.

Word Bank

Learning Points

Prepositions of Time

You use the prepositions of time in, on, and at to say when an event happens.

Look at the table below: In, On, At

Preposition	Use	Example
in	period	The meeting starts in five minutes. I come to Paris in June every year. on	days and dates	The exam is on May 9th.
at	a specific time	Class starts at 9 a.m.

Asking and Telling Time

You use what to ask a person about the time.

You can use the Wh- question word when.

There are different ways to say the time. Look at the chart below.

noon	12 o'clock in the afternoon.	It's noon. I'm hungry. midnight	12 o'clock at night.	It's midnight. I have to go to sleep.
a.m.	use this to talk about time between midnight and noon.	School starts at 9 a.m.
p.m.	use this to talk about time between noon and midnight.	I have dinner at 8 p.m. o'clock	use this to tell the hour	It's 5 o'clock.

When you ask and tell the time, you often use the present simple tense with the verb to be.

Examples:

• Ann: What time is it?

Tom: It's 5 p.m.

• Ann: When is the meeting?

Tom: It's at 10 a.m.
